

Hello all Camera Club members

Last Meeting

12th June at Kaikohe

Wow! What an evening

About 20 people were there and the night buzzed with interaction and activity.

Light tables were set up around the room; Denis gave us a talk about taking pictures in these lighting situations. Then it was all go, the interaction was amazing. Ideas were discussed, techniques tried, problems worked through. The evening took on a life of its own.

We had an article in The Bay Chronicle which many of you may have seen.

Funding

Funding for a future projector has been discussed for a while now. To generate money and also interest a suggested was put forward to create a book about Kaikohe using old photos and new. This would be a long term project but one some members may be interested in pursuing.

Here's how to make a string tripod, a simple do-it-yourself stabilizer that wins you sharper photos. <http://www.pcworld.com/article/id,145582-c,digitalcameras/article.html> I thought this was a neat idea; I am going to try it.
